Bardot

Bardot is an iconic vintage inspired DAB / DAB+ Digital and FM Radio with Bluetooth that would grace any room in your home.

The digital radio gives access to the full spectrum of DAB / DAB+ Digital radio stations alongside traditional FM radio broadcasts. This means you can listen to all your favourite stations from your national, commercial or local broadcasters and save them to one of sixty available presets. If you've never tried digital radio before, now's the time with better coverage and more stations than ever before, it couldn't be easier to find stations as they're all listed alphabetically making it easy to find your old favourites or discover new digital only services.

There's so much choice when it comes to digital radio it seems hard to believe you could ever tire of it, but if it is time to listen to some of your own music, you'll be glad to know Bardot also features a Bluetooth connection. The wireless Bluetooth connection means you can use Bardot as a speaker to stream content from your phone, tablet or any other smart device. So via Bardot you can enjoy music from the likes of; Apple Music, Deezer and Spotify, Audio Books from the likes of; Audible and even Podcasts from Acast and iTunes. Most conveniently of all, Bardot even features a USB charge port so you can charge your phone/tablet as you stream.

Bardot also features a remote control app designed for iOS or Android which means all the radio functions can be controlled from the palm of your hand.

No matter what you choose to listen to it will sound fantastic and fill any room thanks to the ultra-wide full range dual speakers, delivering 20 watt total output. You also have the opportunity to tailor the audio experience to your specific requirements with the MyEQ function; which features 6 presets along with independent bass & treble control.
